Love to Mummy and Daddy
Jemimah and Dante

Hello. My name is Ethan.

I hope you like my stories.

I told Grandpa my stories
when I was three and four.

Grandpa typed my stories
for me on the computer.

He helped me type some of my stories.

The stories are about helping each other.

Grandpa wrote this part of my book.

The Pineapple that was Stuck

There was a pineapple that was stuck in the mud.

Can somebody help me to get it out?

Excuse me Mr Clown, can you help me pull the pineapple out?

Yes I will Nick.

Hello Humpty Dumpty.

Can you help us pull the
pineapple out?

Yes I can Nick and Mr Clown.

So they pulled and pulled
and they couldn't get it out.

Hello Jack and Jill.

Will you help us pull the
pineapple out?

Yes we will, said Jack and Jill.

So they pulled and they pulled and they got it out.

Now they all make friends together.

The Farmer

Once upon a time there was a farmer that lived in a good house.

He had 1 cow and 2 ducks and 3 horses and 4 pigs.

And they all went out together.

The Farmer's Birthday

The night when they were eating dinner it was the farmer's birthday.

They had so much fun playing Pass the Parcel with his friends.

Mary and the Cat Lost their Hat

Mary and the cat went to find their hat.

They looked in the forest.

They couldn't find their hat.

They looked in Mary's house.

They couldn't find it in the house.

They looked in Mary's garden but they couldn't find it in Mary's garden.

They looked in the bush but they couldn't find it in the bush.

They climbed up a tree and looked in the tree but they couldn't find it in the tree.

Where could it be?

So they looked in the train.

They couldn't find it on the train.

Mary had a look at the station.

They found it at the station.

It was on a chair at the station.

Mary and the Cat didn't Lose their Hat

Mary and the cat kept their hat in a special spot.

There was a hat for Mary and there was a hat for the cat.

When they went out they kept their hat on.

They mostly go to the park and to the shops.

The Cat got Lost in the Garden

When they went to pick some flowers they went
by their own and the cat
went too far away.

So Mary looked for the cat.

She looked and looked and the cat was lost in the garden.

So she went in her home
and tried to find him.

She looked and looked
and he was lost in the house and she only found a mouse in the house.

Mary and the Mouse went to Find their Cat

Mary and the mouse got ready to find their cat.

They looked everywhere in the house and everywhere in the garden.

But the cat was running everywhere.

But when the cat stopped running he found a good spot to sleep.

When he stopped running they found the cat and took him inside.

The Girl and the Boy

The girl and the boy went out together and it was a sunny day.

So they went out with their hats on their heads.

But their hats blew away on the same tree.

Then the boy tried to climb up and get their hats.

Then the girl tried to climb up and get their hats.

But nobody could.

But then their Grandpa came and climbed up the tree to get their hats.

And he did it.

A note from Grandpa

We hope you liked Ethan's stories. I did. We had a lot of fun finding the letters on the computer keyboard.

Then Ethan had more fun finding lots of ways to print his name like some of these and lots more:

Ethan, Ethan, Ethan, Ethan,
Ethan, Ethan, Ethan, Ethan,
Ethan, Ethan, Ethan, Ethan.
